

A photograph of a large, light-colored, irregularly shaped object, possibly a piece of paper or fabric, with a smaller, darker, irregularly shaped object attached to its right side. The larger object has a complex, folded appearance with several sharp angles and a rough, textured surface. The smaller object is a dark, irregularly shaped fragment, possibly a piece of wood or a small animal skull, attached to the right side of the larger object. The background is dark and textured.
